AMONG THE ROSES

Wedding of C. O. G. Miller and Miss Ena Tucker.

A Social Event of More Than Usual Magnificence.

Exquisite Floral Decorations of the Tucker Residence—Handsome and Valuable Gifts.

Flora's gems were profusely used yesterday in decorating the interior of the beautiful residence of Dr. J. C. Tucker, at 1051 Market street, and extensive were the preparations there made to convert the already beautiful rooms into fairy like bowers.

The cause of all this stir and activity was the wedding of Miss Ena Tucker to C. O. G. Miller. Long and anxiously have the friends of the contracting parties waited for this happy event. Their waiting, which in truth was not really long, came to an end last evening, when, in the presence of the many relatives and friends who were invited to witness the marriage ceremony, they were joined in holy wedlock.

Before proceeding to give an account of the climax of the engagement of the happy couple it will be well to note the decorations.

On entering the main hall the guest perceives that he has stepped into a bower of flowers and ferns, with garlands of roses about the walls and chandeliers, while pots of fine leaved Chinese bamboos, and palms gave a air of semi tropical splendor to the scene.

It was not until the main parlor is reached that the guest is struck with the wonderful beauty of the decorations, which were made by Miss M. Breck and her assistants. The front bay window was entwined in a garland of white flowers, and in the window, archway beneath which the bridal pair stood was a chime of five floral wedding bells tilted in various attitudes as if in the act of pealing forth the glad tidings of the happy event that was taking place beneath them. The window looked a veritable fairy bower with its wealth of floral gems.

The mantle was banked with white and pink roses, Philadelphus grandiflora, and ferns. The door casings were prettily entwined with ribbons, set off with pink roses and sprays of wild oat. In one corner, suspended from the wall, and nicely arranged, was the bride's bouquet of La France roses, the present of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Cohen. A noticeable and quite pretty effect was produced by the decorator by hanging a long string of southern California moss between and near the top of the folding doors in the front parlor. This was set off to further advantage by white flowers arranged above. A side window in the parlor where the wedding ceremony took place was hung with a snowy white curtain, at one side of which was arranged a profusion of orange blossoms from an orange grove in this city. Pink ribbons also entwined this effect. A screen worked in flowers, smilax, ferns and asparagus had the monogram "M. T." neatly arranged in its center in pink and white daisies.

The music room adjoining the parlor was decorated chiefly in white flowers, while the room just passed was in pink. A large branch of white ribbon grass, variegated New Zealand, through the leaves of which there were long stripes of white, and calla lilies made a pretty picture at one side of this room. A mirror over the mantel looked charming, half curtained in Southern moss. White roses, lilies and white locusts were arranged in pleasing profusion about the walls, windows, and doorways, while some slender leaved and graceful palms blended well with the white flowers. The floor of this room, as well as all the others here described, were carpeted. Native wild flowers were beautifully arranged in the sitting room. This apartment was in yellow drapings and flowers, which allowed the decorator plenty of scope for working in many of the floral gems of the Golden West, as many of the wild flowers, especially at this time of the year, are either yellow or orange. Escholtzia, brachæas, Marburnums, marigolds, bachelor's buttons, Spanish broom, and other yellow flowers were in great profusion about the room, and orange colored ribbons were entwined in such a manner as to make the floral display even more attractive. If such a feat was possible. Yellow curtains hung at the windows, and the mirror that stood on the mantle was banked with tropæolums.

Not one whit less attractive was the dining room than the apartments already noticed. A wagon load of orange blossoms from the gardens of a prominent Oaklander were used in this room. The table was decorated in blue, with ferns and orange blossoms. The sideboards on each side of the mantel were not only decked in a novel, but quite pretty manner.

The chandeliers in all the rooms were entwined in either smilax, ivy, ferns, asparagus, and flowers.

Brandt's orchestra was stationed in one corner of the court, which was canvased and hung with Japanese lanterns. Palms, ferns, fine carved bamboos, and other evergreens and flowers gave an additional charm to the place, which was set apart for dancing.

A tent adjacent to the court was tastefully ornamented with La Marque roses, Egyptian paper-tree leaves, ferns, palms, and Japanese lanterns, fans, parasols and American flags. This apartment was used for the dining room, and the long tables were set with an elegant supper by Ehrl Cusine, the well-known San Francisco caterer.

THE CEREMONY.

Rev Hobart Chetwood Officiates—Bridesmaids and Groomsmen.

When the soft melody of Mendelssohn's Wedding March quavered into the stillness, unbroken save by the rythmic rustle of the silken skirts that whispered the approach of the bridal party, it was half past eight o'clock. More than 100 guests, friends of the happy pair, were assembled in the handsome parlors. A murmur of admiration for a moment broke the quiet when the bride and groom appeared, the former leaning on her father's arm. The maid of honor, Miss Ettie Tucker, and bridesmaids, Miss Annie Miller, Miss Alberine Tucker, Miss Daisy Ainsworth, and Miss Sallie McKee followed. Then came the groom with Harry E. Miller, best man, accompanied by the groomsmen, Messrs. T. P. Dargie, William Herrick, S. B. Melone, and Eddington Detrick. The procession paused at the head of the parlor, and Rev. Dr. Hobart Chetwood of St. Paul's Church read the impressive Episcopal marriage service, and as the last words died away strains of music, low at first, broke into one glad peal, with the congratulations of the throng ing friends. A charming reception followed, a supper, elaborate to the extreme, was served, and soon all other thoughts were lost in the whirling dance.

The bride was attired in a gown of heavy white corded silk, richly trimmed with duchess lace. The veil, of white silk tulle, was caught in her tresses with a diamond chrysanthemum (a gift of the groom), and fell in rippling folds like a stream of silver mist. Diamonds were her ornaments, and in her hand she held a bouquet of orange blossoms and choice white roses.

The bridesmaids were dressed in pale blue mousselaine de soye directoire costume, with silver tissue undergarments, and carried pink roses.

THE PRESENTS.

Gift of a House and Lot and Numerous Presents of Valuable Articles.

Few weddings have occurred in this city where so many valuable and exquisite presents were presented the bride. A room upstairs was completely filled with services of silver and useful articles of numerous kinds, all of the most costly nature. Among the most prominent of these was a beautiful oak chest, divided into apartments, containing a complete dinner service of silver, the present of the groom's parents.

In the center of a table in the middle of the room, was an elegant large crystal bowl and ladle. A list of the presents or the donors is not here given, in deference to the wish of the bride's parents. Suffice to say, however, that the bride was the recipient from the parents of a deed of gift of a valuable house and lot in the city of Alameda.

PRESENTS OF FLOWERS.

Elegant Baskets and Bouquets of Flowers Sent to the Bride.

Some of the very choicest of floral gems were sent to the bride by her friends. These were mostly displayed in the parlor. Among them may be mentioned a beautiful bride's bouquet of delicate pink roses from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cohen; bas-kets of roses from George W. McNear Jr., Miss Trixie Van Denburg, Dr. and Mrs. Fisher, Miss Brigham, Mrs. Albert Bert, and a unique jar of flowers from Miss Etta Peterson.

THE BRIDAL COUPLE.

Who They Are and What Places They Will Visit.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Tucker, and is well and favorably known in this city and San Francisco, where she has been a favorite in social circles. She has lived in Alameda and this city many years. She was chiefly educated in New York, where she attended and was graduated from Mrs. Sylvanus Reed's Female Seminary.

The groom is the third son of Albert Miller of this city, and was educated here. He occupies a prominent place in social and business circles. For some time past he has been the secretary of the Pacific Gas Company in San Francisco.

After a few days spent in visiting places of interest in this State, the bridal couple will leave for New York, where they will visit friends and acquaintances. From thence they will go to Europe, and after spending six months in traveling in England and the continent they will return to Oakland, which will be their future home.

DOWN BROADWAY.

New Facts About the Extension of the Cable.

The Pacific Improvement Company Has a Franchise for Only a Single Track.

The Pacific Improvement Company has met the wishes of the residents and business men of lower Broadway more than half way in the extension of the cable to First street. It will be a great outlay of money to extend the cable, something like $60,000 or $80,000, and there is no immediate prospect of a return, but still the company is willing to do it.

The first difficulty to be encountered is the possibility that it will be necessary to divide the cable at the engine house. The cable now measures more than five miles in length, and the engineers think that with one added length it will transcend the limits of economy and even of safety. If this be found really so, it will necessitate a duplicate system of propelling machinery at the engine house.

Another delay occurs in the question of right of way. Senator Fair purchased and later delivered to the Pacific Improvement Company J. S. Emery's franchise for a railroad on lower Broadway. This provides for a single track, which of course, is not sufficient for a cable railway. Theodore Mentz also has a single track franchise in the street. To make a satisfactory cable arrangement is now the endeavor of the railway.

In this Mr. Mentz is meeting them in a very fair spirit, and has shown a disposition to make every concession that can be done, and his friendly action is much appreciated.

The possibilities of the case are these: That the Pacific Improvement Company and Mr. Mentz share the double track. There is a general law of the State which is prohibitory of two franchises on the same street for a greater distance that five blocks, but this may be evaded in a proper manner. There is also the fact that the cable cars will run with a five minute headway, and Mr. Mentz's cars have a long wait at Seventh street, so that it will be necessary to have a turn out on which they may wait.

On the other hand, the Pacific Improvement Company might secure a franchise from the City Council for a second track. This would not be convenience Mr. Mentz at all. He would make no objection to such action nor to any other pending to secure the extension of the cable. There would then be three tracks on Broadway, but as the street is to be Macadamized, and the turn table below First street, there would be no obstruction.

LAWYER SILVER.

He Fails to Produce His License in Court.

This morning was the time set by Judge Ellsworth for George W. Silver, the crippled lawyer of Alameda, to produce proofs to show that he is a duly licensed attorney and entitled to practice in all the courts of this State, and thereby purge himself of contempt of court. Mr. Silver was in court, but he did not produce any proofs to show that he is entitled to practice law in this State. He stated that he had examined the records of the Supreme Court, but he had been unable to find his name enrolled among the list of attorneys. He considered that a mistake had been made by the clerk in entering his name upon the record, and he assured the court that he had been admitted to practice in 1876. Mr. Silver stated that he felt sure that he could produce affidavits of persons who were present in court when he was admitted to practice, and he therefore asked for further time. Judge Ellsworth continued the case until May 13th, and he instructed Mr. Silver to be present in court at that time and to produce his evidence to the court.

When Silver retired from the court room he remarked that he is now preparing papers with a view to having Attorney R. B. Tappan disbarred. It will be remembered that the latter caused Silver to be cited to appear before Judge Ellsworth.

Another Mining Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Navajo Mining Company have been filed with County Clerk Boardman. The corporation has a capital stock of $10,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares of the value of $100 each. W. H. Clarke, G. W. Grayson, Henry Williams, M. Heenan and M. Lambeth have each subscribed the sum of $10,000. The company is formed for the purpose of doing general mining business in Tuscarora mining district, Elko county, Nevada.

He Would Like the Job.

A communication has been received by the Supervisors from William Bradford of Bakersfield as follows: "I have just seen a notice in the Bay Pacific Press that you have appointed a committee in regard to the extermination of squirrels. What are the terms? I would like to get a contract. I can furnish a poison that will take them clean. Please let me know as soon as possible."

CONGRESSMAN McKENNA.

An Interesting Interview at Suisun To-day.

The Fight for the Oakland Post-Office.

Congressman McKenna's Earnest Efforts for Oakland—A Host of Candidates for Federal Positions.

SUISUN, May 3.—Congressman Joseph McKenna was interviewed by a TRIBUNE representative this noon at his home in Suisun, a disappointing town as regards size, beauty, and location. During our chat the door bell was frequently rang by callers desiring legal advice or in pursuit of a federal appointment.

My first question was, "Do you intend to become a resident of Oakland?"

"No, not for the present," replied he, "I would very much like to dwell in that city, but my law practice and other ties will keep me here for some time yet. Should I make the change it will be simply because of my liking for that city as a residence place. As a Congressman I can do just as much for Oakland here as there. It is my policy to strive and accomplish everything possible for every section of the district. Oakland needs a federal building and further appropriations for the harbor improvements, and to the utmost of my ability and influence I shall labor to secure these ends. It is my intention to visit Oakland frequently during the interval before the next session of Congress, and I shall post myself thoroughly on all matters wherein I am concerned pertaining to that city and Alameda county.

"Are you aware that several gentlemen would like to have your place as Congressman of the Third district? In fact are loying plans to gain that honor next year?"

"I suppose that one or more gentlemen are desirous to succeed me, and I believe that I may have a contest in 1890. That prospect does not disturb me, however. I shall continue to to accomplish the most possible for my constituents and the district. I will have in my favor at least two things: What I have done, and my standing and weight in Congress. This is my third term, and it is a well known axiom that the longer a member of Congress is in service the greater is his power to produce legislation and effect what he is working for.

"About a Republican Successor to Postmaster Hanna?"

There are a number of candidates. Senator Stanford and I shall consider on this matter. It is President Harrison's programme to let incumbents of offices within his gift serve their said term. Part he may not adhere to this resolve in every case. Mr. Hanna may not be removed. Still it would not be much of a surprise if some Republican should succeed him before very long.

"Whom do you favor for the place?"

I don't answer that definitely, but I will say that if Frank A. Leach were a candidate he would probably have my support. He and I have long sustained friendly relations and I believe he would make an excellent Postmaster, but I am inclined to think he is not a re-pirate.

"How do you and Senator Dargie stand?"

I consider him one of my best friends politically and socially. Between him and Mr. Leach I don't think I could make any distinction.

Mr. McKenna is besieged with candidates for Federal positions. Among those named for the Oakland Postoffice, beside Mr. Leach, are Captain W. R. Thomas, A. J. McGovern, A. W. Bishop, L. H. Briggs, Fay Patten, L. T. Farr, and C. B. Bennett.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

So It Proved in the Case of Mary Wineshank.

A few days ago Mary Wineshank brought suit for a divorce against Benjamin F. Wineshank, on the ground of cruelty. The defendant has filed a very tart answer to the complaint, in which he alleges that his wife is whimsical and extravagant and unreasonable in her wants and demands. He says she is not content with his care and attention, but in an unreasonable and whimsical manner demands other and different supplies and treatment at the hands of the defendant. In concluding the husband, who is a news agent, says that his wife is quarrelsome and aggravating in her manner towards him, is neglectful of her household affairs and of her infant, and on one occasion became so exasperated as to forget herself and call him vile name. He says she is not entitled to a divorce, and he asks the court for the custody of the minor child because he says his wife, by reason of her whimsical character, is not a proper person to have its care and custody.

FRED M. CAMPBELL.

He Claims His Salary as Still Superintendent of Schools.

F. M. Campbell has filed a claim for his salary for April. He holds that he cannot be legislated out of office, and City Attorney Johnson says that there is a possibility that he may collect his salary.

He will continue to present his claim every month, and will sue for the whole at the end of the term for which he was elected.

A BIG HOTEL.

Plans For a First-Class Building in the Sixth Ward.

A $250,000 Improvement for the Lower End of Town—Major Hooper of the Occidental Approves Them.

The preliminary plans have been submitted for the new hotel to be erected in the Sixth ward on the block now occupied by St. Joseph's Academy and bounded by Jackson, Madison, Fourth, and Fifth streets. The plan show a handsome building of Swiss and German design, of four stories in height, fronting on Jackson street, and taking up the entire frontage on the street. Two wings extend along Fourth and Fifth streets to Clay. A central wing extends out into the court in the rear, and contains on the ground floor the dining rooms, kitchen, closets, and two reception rooms.

On the lower floor will be sixty rooms, besides the stores and offices, and the upper three floors will have eighty rooms each, or a total of 260 rooms. The dining room is at the end of the central wing and has a semi-circular front opening out on to the ground. The eastern portion of the block will be devoted to flower beds and shrubbery. The new structure will combine all the accommodations of a first class hotel, with the privileges of a suburban home. It is estimated that the total cost of the hotel and grounds will be in the neighborhood of $250,000. Should it be deemed necessary at any time to increase the number of stories, it is estimated that it can be done at the rate of $2,000 for each story added. The projectors of the new hotel think it will become as popular as the Vendome of San Jose, and that it will be patronized as well if not better than any hotel outside of San Francisco. Certainly a no better site could be secured than the one, being as it does in the most healthful part of the city within two minutes' walk of four railroad stations and being within a half an hour's ride of San Francisco.

The plans of the hotel have been submitted to Major Hooper of the Occidental Hotel in San Francisco, who possesses an opinion that the plans, location, and the design are the most satisfactory suggestion for an Oakland hotel that have ever been made, and endorses that the venture will be a success from its very beginning. As soon as completed, the building will be of great

NOT MUCH BUSTLE.

A Ladies' Dress Reform Club Organized in This City.

There was a quiet dissension at the Seminary yesterday afternoon by a number of ladies who are interested in dress reform. A club was organized and a constitution adopted, which among other things provides that the association shall be called "The Society for the Promotion of Physical Culture and Correct Dress," and that the object shall be active help toward learning the highest standards of physical development and mutual counsel toward realizing those standards in practical life.

It was decided that the meetings of the club shall be held on the first Thursday of each month at 2 o'clock.

ALAMEDA.

The Fair of the Young Ladies' Mission in the Opera House.

A Scene of Floral Beauty—Meeting of the Improvement Association—Brevities.

The collections for licenses made by the City Marshal last month amounted to $2708 20.

The railroad company is lowering its track on Railroad avenue in all places where it is above the grade of the cross streets.

The Board of Health will hold a meeting this evening and will discuss matters relating to the sanitary condition of the city.

While an express-man was unloading some articles from a wagon last evening on Park street he had a value fall. It came apart and a loaded pistol dropped out, but did no go off.

The police made twenty-four arrests during the month of May for the following offenses: Petty arceny, three; drunk, five; disturbing the peace, seven; vagrancy, two; violating ordinances, two; larceny, battery, insanity, cruelty to animals, and obtaining money under false pretenses, one each.

The grand officers of the Ancient Order of United Workmen have decided to make a tour of the State in the interests of the order, and will visit Alameda one week from next Thursday evening. They will be given a reception in the Park Opera House, to be followed by an entertainment.

A boy named Joe Ivers wandered into a store on Mozart street yesterday, and could not overcome the temptation to steal a clock there. It belonged to Peter Roper, a hostler, who notified Officer Lawrence shortly afterwards of his loss. The officer noticed the timepiece in the possession of the boy, and arrested him for petty larceny.

The trial of Coroner Ivers, who was arrested on complaint of Health Officer McLean for taking the dead body of a Chinaman from Alameda without a permit, will take place to-morrow before the City Recorder. The Health Officer holds that the Coroner is required by law to hold an inquest where the body is found, and he will submit his opinion on the matter to the Coroner at the trial to-morrow.

A Prosperous Organization.

The Alameda Improvement Association came into existence in September, 1887, just previous to the "boom" which swept over this section of the State. Its membership comprised the progressive citizens of this place, and soon after its formation street and sidewalk improvements were inaugurated and the good work put on foot by the association still continues. Its existence has brought prosperity to the city. Last night the annual meeting was held. The report of the Treasurer showed that the sum of $3,650 had been collected, while the disbursements amounted to $3,693. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, George H. Payne; Vice President, D. Hirschfeldt; Treasurer, H. J. Michels; Executive Committee—J. Doherty, George G. Favers, George Coffee, J. T. McLean, and J. C. Siegfried. This committee will hold a meeting next Thursday evening and elect a Secretary. Heretofore the association has been working without any constitution or by-laws, and last evening a set were offered and adopted.

Charles S. Neal, who has been President since its organization, declined re-election, as he is now a member of the Board of City Trustees. In a pleasant little speech, Mr. Neal said that he belonged to two organizations, of which he was more proud than the association, because of the good results which it has accomplished. The present membership of the association is 102.

The Flower Mission's Fair.

If the resources of the flower gardens of Alameda were not exhausted to contribute toward turning the Park Opera House into a veritable floral bower, it was because nature was more bountiful than usual this spring in anticipation of this particular event. The stranger on entering the Opera House could easily imagine himself in some enchanted spot where fairies hold forth. Sweet perfumes filled the air, and the variegated hues of the choicest flowers entranced the eye. The occasion was the flower fair of the Young Ladies' Flower Mission, and never before was such an exhibition of nature's choicest productions presented in Alameda. The fair commenced last evening and the Opera House presented a most charming scene. Marechal Neil roses, sylphide roses, tea roses, white roses, marguerites, geraniums, baskets of exquisite grasses, and flowers of every description were seen in abundance. Artistically decorated booths were arranged around the sides, and the spectator who loves native art might see much to entertain him. The attendance last evening was quite large. The following programme was carried out: Banjo solo, Imperial Band; recitation, "Rich" vocal solo, Mrs. L. Tenney; recitation, Merchant of Venice, act I, scene II, "Portia and Nerissa," Miss Alista Shred Langstadt; recitation, "Money Musk," Mrs. Langstadt; vocal solo, "'Tis All That I Can Say," Mrs. F. H. McCormick; piano solo, Mrs. Kendall. The accompanist was Mrs. Helen M. Cushman. Two prizes, one of $10 and the other of $5, will be given for the finest arrangement of flowers, to be decided by popular vote. The fair will conclude to-morrow evening, when the votes will be counted.

Roses in Plenty.

The Rose Festival opened last night in Cavalry Hall. The booths in red, white, orange, lavender and green were extremely beautiful, while the special designs of the engine, lighthouse, cow and sailboat made of roses were marvels of floral loveliness. A musical and literary programme of merit was rendered and delicious refreshments served. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

April Trade.

The Bradstreet Mercantile Agency reports sixty-four failures in the Pacific Coast States and Territories for the month of April, with assets $150,165 and liabilities $231,35[illegible], as compared with sixty-five for the previous month, with assets of $[illegible] and liabilities $825,786, and sixty-five for the corresponding month of 1888, with assets $251,071 and liabilities $17,[illegible].

Hayward's Politics.

"DON'T GET AFRAID."

It Was All Talk and No Fight.

When Attorneys Tim Mullany and Billy Foote get on opposite sides in a law suit there is bound to be fun. Such was the case yesterday when the trial of the suit of M. F. Tarpey et al. against Donnelly, Dunne & Co. to recover $22,000 on promissory notes came up for hearing before Judge Hunt across the bay. During the progress of the trial a question was asked Mr. Tarpey.

"Stop; don't answer that question," commanded Mr. Foote with fire in his eye, for he represented the witness.

"Oh don't get afraid," soothingly remarked Mr. Mullany.

"We are not afraid," said Mr. Foote, who is a member of the Royal Bengals of Oakland. "That is why we don't propose to have any improper questions put to witnesses in this case. Come now, let's try this case right. There has already been a great deal of hard feeling and bad blood in the case. Once, when depositions relating to the matter were being taken in my office, pistols were drawn. We ought to avoid a recurrence of such scenes."

"Gentlemen, you must not indulge in such language in this court," commanded his honor.

By this time the Royal Bengal was warmed up to his business. "When counsel talks that way to me," said Mr. Foote, "I propose to protect myself even at the risk of being punished for contempt of court," and thoughts of the past dashed through the speaker's mind when he was fined $300 for contempt of court in this county, which fine, however, was set aside by the Supreme Court.

Mullany's fire had now been forced up to fever pitch. "The gentleman," he said, "is trying to conduct this case in his usual bulldozing way and wants it all on his own side."

Attorney Coogan pacified Mr. Foote, while Attorney Reddy begged Mullany to keep the peace and the trial proceeded.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease—Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osgood Bro's Seventh and Broadway.

THE COUNTY.

San Leandro.

L. C. Morehouse has been put on the citizens' high license ticket in place of A. B. Cary, who declined to run.

Gilbert W. Tompkins has sold the San Leandro Reporter to Dr. B. F. Mason. The change in proprietorship will be announced in Saturday's issue.

T. P. Cary of San Leandro, who has been up on his ranch in Merced county for several weeks, has returned to his home in excellent health and spirits. He will remain at home a few days and then return to Merced again to look after his property and business interests there.

Niles.

Alameda County Express.

Mr. Joseph Nichols started East on Wednesday morning for a visit of several months at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Severance, of San Francisco, visited at the home of his father in the canyon on Sunday.

The prospects of the establishment of a cannery here during the coming season seems at present very good.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart of San Francisco were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Overacker on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Fisher of San Jose, with Mrs. E. G. Johnson and daughter of West Oakland, are visiting George Fisher.

The employes in the shops of the railroad company in Oakland will hold a picnic at the grounds in Niles canyon the 4th day of May.

James N. Thane of San Francisco went last Friday at the home of his mother, being en route for the Lick Observatory and Mount Hamilton.

The bed of Alameda creek at Niles again dry, probably to so continue until the coming rains of a future winter. The thought brings sadness.

Quite a number of Niles people attended the reception given to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brier Jr. at the family residence on Wednesday afternoon of last evening.

Mrs. E. D. Atkins of Denver, who has been visiting in San Francisco for a couple of weeks, has returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. A. D. Ashman of Niles.

Shippers of freight at this station may be better satisfied to know that consignments are again received up to 6 o'clock P. M., as has been the case for so long in the past.

Mr. E. Fisher, who has been staying with his son George for about six months, left last week for Wilmington, Delaware, to make his home with a daughter at that place.

Mrs. L. F. Dayan, of Chicago, who has been visiting Mrs. C. B. Overacker for several weeks, left on Monday on her return trip by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe route.

Those accustomed to riding in the Pleasanton stage or noting its daily passage to and fro miss the familiar face of the driver "George," who has been attached to the vehicle for many years. Faithful service certainly earned him a holiday by this time.

Centerville.

Alameda County Express.

Mrs. Jessie Neal and Mrs. I. Hoggan of Sacramento are spending a week or two with Mrs. A. Cameron.

Mrs. Baldwin left for New York on Monday. She will visit her old home and friends and will remain for two or three months.

Mrs. J. W. Hand of Arroyo Vale and Mrs. J. Tretheway and children of Oakland spent a few days with Mrs. J. A. Harding.

Charles Burdick has taken a vacation of a month and will visit Yosemite before he returns. His brother takes his place on the car.

Mr. Cameron returned home last week. He enjoyed his trip very much, but is full of praise for our section and is glad to be home.

Wednesday a reception was given by Mrs. W. W. Brier for the young couple Mr. and Mrs. W. Brier between half past three and ten. Little Bernie Sutherland was very ill with membranous croup. On Friday life was despaired of. To the joy of all a change for the better took place and she is now out of danger.

Miss Helen Swayne, who will sing at the St. James entertainment, has been asked to assist at H. Marsh's concert. Unfortunately for us it was also on the 20th and she had already given her promise for Pleasanton.

The churches were all decorated for Easter. The Episcopal looked handsome with its long sprays of smilax, as if from Nature's own hand. On the font and altar were placed white lilies, roses, and ferns. The organ was also artistically decked. Each window and lamp received especial care. The church was crowded and all listened with interest to the Easter service and sermon. The collection was for the benefit of San Mateo Orphanage and amounted to $35. After service the children gathered for their Easter egg hunt. A golden one in the shape of a lyre for the organist, Miss Nellie Hoge, and the same to Justus Overacker who has been very faithful in leading the organ.

Bug on Manzanita Bushes.

Livermore Herald.

A big manzanita bush, growing in the valley, was found this week to be entirely covered with small scale bugs. They range in color from a light brown to jet black, and are not much more than half the size of the San Jose scale. Another manzanita near by was also affected, nor were other shrubs and trees in the vicinity. The insects are destroyed, but will be shortly show a disposition to extend their operations. It is proposed to watch the effect of a few hot north winds upon them to learn if they are destroyed by dry air, as was the San Jose scale in the valley last season.

The Danger of Frost.

Livermore Herald.

The period of danger from frost is nearly at an end. Our vineyards, even in the most exposed districts, the setting of very limited areas may safely consider that they are beyond danger. Only twice since the settlement of this valley, has its upper portion been visited by killing frosts after the first of May. The vines are coming out rapidly, and the fruit trees already set indicate a very heavy crop.

A. R. Rosell writes: I am delighted about Nelson's Amycose as a cure and preventive for affections of the throat. I can highly recommend it to those using their voice. All druggists sell it.

THE COUNTY TOWNS.

A Livermore Editor on the Causes of Their Growth.

Livermore Herald.

A wave of improvement consequent upon the upbuilding of San Francisco, is sweeping over the towns of this county. Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley were the first to feel it. Haywards and San Leandro are improving under its influence; Niles has doubled in population and quadrupled in appearance and style of improvements; Sunol is making rapid strides, and Pleasanton is by no means behind. This growth has been caused very largely by the overflow of people and money from San Francisco—a sort of summer-resort fever. The prettiest spots, nearest to the hills, have been most sought for. For instances of this look at Sunol and Niles. The greatest proportionate growth has been at those places. As San Francisco continues to grow the desire for country homes will increase, and the proximity and attractiveness of the towns of Alameda county must always command a large share of this overflow from the metropolis. For many years the majority of these towns stood still. They had attained their growth as supply centers for the local trade, and practically lapsed into the lethargy of built-up country villages. For ten years Livermore was the only interior town in Alameda county to make any active growth. While this town doubled, trebled and quadrupled in size, her sister towns stood still. But this new overflow wave is giving them all new life. Livermore will be almost the last to profit by this movement. Less accessible from the city, our town is also far from the foothills, which are the charm of Pleasanton, Sunol, and Niles; and while we shall in time receive our proportion of the wave, it will be more in the line of the continued viticultural and horticultural development of our lands, rather than in the building of summer cottages in our town. There is, however, a decided movement of one kind toward this valley, that of the health seeker. The tone of the curative effects of our dry, bracing air upon pulmonary and lung complaints, and of our mineral waters upon a variety of diseases, is as wide as the State. Hundreds of people visited our valley and mountains last season and found relief, and we anticipate that this year the number will be greatly increased. This fame brings us as yet but a transient population, but within a few years it will result in a large permanent population of people who desire homes in a climate and a chief residence in which has given them renewed health.

To Dislodge the Enemy.

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indications of inactivity of the urinary organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which possesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond, the bounds of safety. It relieves always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder, are diseases successfully combatted in their incipiency with this benign medical stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

Engineer Hall's Report

The report of the State Engineer, William Hamm Hall, to the State Mining Commission on River and Harbors is interesting because it recommends a wholly new policy—so far as California is concerned—for the Federal Government in relation to the improvement of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers. He recommends that the State endeavor to secure the appointment of a permanent Federal commission with large annual appropriations for the purposes of reclamation and general drainage. At present the Federal Government confines its attention to the improvement of the rivers for purposes of navigation only, and pays no attention to the control of flood waters. Mr. Hall thinks that the State should send to Washington a commission of experts qualified to present the needs of California in this regard, and to urge the precedent of the reclamation of large areas in the Mississippi valley by the Federal Commission for the improvement of the river. This, of course, was a much larger and more important work than that which Mr. Hall proposes, and several States were interested in it. It would be a fine thing for the owners of swamp lands in this State if the Government could be persuaded to come to their relief, and incidentally, of course, it would be of benefit to the whole State, but we very much doubt if we shall succeed in persuading the people in control at Washington that it is a matter of national concern. As a matter of fact, it only concerns parts of three Congress Districts.

Boston society was busy last week preparing for the Artists' Festival, an elaborate costume party conducted on æsthetic, historical and intellectual lines, and, if all the stories are true, the preparations appear to have been the cause of a great deal of perplexity, not to say mental anguish. For instance, there was to be a band of knights, of the Fra Angelico type, with golden hair, and wings, and flowing draperies. Volunteers were plenty enough, but it was found that those whose figures were good insisted on corsets and such bodies, while others with fine necks thought that angels of that variety were too much clothes, and they were bound only to appear as cecillette seraphim. Again, there was a lady who thought that in order to complete the realism of her role she should be allowed to introduce a tame leopard as her companion, and the beautiful Miss Timmins threatened to bring her pet snake as part of her costume. Altogether it appears to have been a very exciting, as well as instructive social occasion.

A NEW YORK specimen of penmanship in the Stockton schools, who is somewhat of a wag, was astonished the other day to find one of his jokes come home to roost in a very unexpected way. He is a great hand to stimulate the children to extra effort in preparing their specimens of writing, and one day facetiously remarked to a certain class that the one who exercised most care and got up the best specimen should "go and have a tooth pulled." A little girl won the prize and he gave her an order to take to a dentist to have her tooth drawn. Some days later he was surprised at receiving a bill from a dentist for $1 for pulling the child's tooth. She had actually had a tooth drawn and the accomplished quill driver is now wondering whether if he had given her an order to have her leg sawed off he would have had to foot the bill.

A NEW YORK sporting paper remarks:

The young man who wrote baseball matter for the Oakland Cal., paper is now at large, although wanted by some honest sporting gentlemen. This youth posed as a prophet, and said the Oaklands would beat the San Franciscans, and advised everyone to bet on the Oakland club. The good people of the city, thinking that the bare fact of his being a newspaper man enabled him to know it all, lost their bottom dollar and lost every nickel. Now they are out with their guns, scouring the country, looking for satisfaction, but the prophet has skipped for a more healthy location.

The young man has promised he will never do so any more. He has pledged his prophetic soul with his uncle.

THE San Francisco Merchant, under the new management of R. M. Wood & Co. has added to its name and now appears as the Merchant and Viticulturist a name which conveys a better idea of its aims than the old one.

KANSAS farmers say they can make sugar from sorghum for 2 cents a

It used to be cause for wonder that in the distribution of seeds by the Commissioner of Agriculture under the old system nobody seemed to get anything but turnip seeds, as if this were the single vegetable in which the Government took a paternal interest. The Nebraska State Journal explains that Commissioner Colman found that the demand for places among the seed distributors of the department was so strong that to pacify the clamor it was necessary to spend as little money as possible for seeds and as much as possible for packers of seeds. So the turnip was called upon to furnish seed of low price, which would go a long way on account of its smallness, toward planting a man's farm. Turnip seeds then became the staple seed of the harvest, and a very large number of young men and women were hired out of the saving to put them up in little papers, label them with the names of every imaginable variety of turnips, and mail them to the constituents of the three hundred and odd Congressmen who wanted seeds of some sort to show that they were recognized by the Government, and were not very particular what they got, so they got seeds. But Uncle Jerry Rusk has changed all that. He has incontinently bounced a hundred seed packers, and now the expectant farmer will no longer be limited to the homely rutabaga but will have his chance of the brilliant cauliflower, the fragrant cabbage and the ornamental onion. All of which proves the superior virtues of a Republican administration. Q. E. D.

THE path of the missionary is full of thorns. Here is our old friend the stormy Bulgarian. Exposition, in a spot of trouble in Sonoma, bored by a jeering and ill-mannered public, driven to revenge himself by cooking up from unlikely motives like this:

[illegible]

The grammar has a fine Bulgarian flavor, and one is forced to wonder what inducements might make a man want to go to Sonoma, or the other place but apart from that we may imagine the gentle Bulgarians in their homes beyond the sea dropping the tear of sensibility over the sufferings of their missionary all tattered and torn, and wondering in their hearts what manner of men those North American savages may be.

IT is no longer fashionable to stay in jail. Some of our own captives have been beguiling their indolent leisure by sawing a hole in the roof of their prison pen, and freedom wept when the untimely policeman intruded. In San Bernardino the prisoners adopt the simpler process of climbing the fence, which in Santa Cruz it is found more comfortable to walk out of the front door, carefully locking it behind them and leaving the key under the door mat for future reference. The advantages of the latter plan are obvious, and it practice it is found that when a prisoner is treated with so much consideration he is always glad to return. There is no more effective inducement to immigration.

THE Stockton schoolmarms spent half a day last week discussing the question, "How to make children stop asking silly questions?" The question assumes too much when it asserts, as it does by implication, that children's questions are usually silly, and the fact of the discussion might lead one to infer that every time a Stockton schoolmarm opens her mouth she expects you to put a nickel in the slot. We do not think that a teacher who has a love for her calling will grudge the time and pains required to satisfy the perpetual craving of childhood for knowledge.

A WARM controversy very seriously entertained is in progress in the London press on the question whether Boulanger was seasick on the voyage from Belgium. It is admitted, however, that he wore a blue necktie.

Kicked the Elephant.

Bakersfield Gazette.

There was a remarkable occurrence at the circus last Monday, which was not down on the bills. Sid, the trained elephant, got into a playful mood, and started to rubbing one of the ostriches with his proboscis. The ostrich, not being used to such treatment, and not liking it, turned around and gave Sid a kick which lifted him off the ground and sent him through the side of the tent. The only damage done was the torn canvas and the breaking of three of Sid's ribs. It is wonderful what kicking ability the ostrich has.

Siege of Sebastopol.

Pain's Siege of Sebastopol, which is given in San Francisco every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, is a production well worth witnessing. It is not a panorama, as many suppose, but is a grand open-air spectacular production. After the siege a grand pyrotechnic display is given, the like of which has never before been witnessed on this coast.

A WIDOW'S CLAIM.

A Cook Who Managed Her Business Affairs.

Now He Is on Trial on a Charge of Embezzlement.

Mrs. Dewart Says She Trusted Pfunder, But Was Never Engaged to Be Married to Him.

Jacob Pfunder, by reason of his peculiar transactions, is on trial before Judge Greene and a jury to-day, in Department 1 of the Superior Court, on a charge of embezzlement. The people are represented in the case by District Attorney Reed, and Fred L. Button appears as special counsel for the complaining witness.

Mrs. Francisca K. Geerke formerly Francisca K. Dewart, is the complainant, and she uses Pfunder of embezzling $2800 while acting as her agent.

Victor H. Metcalf was the first witness called, and testified that he was acting as trustee for Louisa C. Braigton, a widow, when he purchased a note and mortgage for $2000, wherein Channcey M. St. John was the mortgagor and Francisca Dewart the mortgagee. The note and mortgage was purchased from Pfunder, it appearing from papers that he was entitled to act for Mrs. Dewart. Pfunder was given a check on the First National Bank for the amount and he drew out the money.

The prosecutrix in relating her story said that in 1885 her husband purchased the Winters Hotel and she assisted him to run it. They had been at the hotel about three weeks when her husband died. She continued running the hotel, however, and Pfunder was employed as cook. Subsequently she sold out her business. Pfunder came to her and informed her that he would assist her in her business affairs. She consented to allow him to take care of her business and he paid many of her bills. Pfunder after a time suggested that it would be a good idea to start a restaurant, stating that it would pay well. The witness thought this would be a very good scheme, and gave Pfunder the money to start the restaurant. At various times she advanced money to him, and finally she became worried concerning the $2200 which her agent had received for the note and mortgage. She brought him to task concerning the money, and he replied "You need not be afraid, I am an honest man." She pressed him, however, about the money, and he informed her that it was in the Oakland Bank of Savings in her name. She wanted the money, and he said, "Oh, the money is all right." He finally said he had to go out and hunt up a package for his sister and left the house, and from that time she did not see him again until he appeared in the Police Court to answer to the criminal charge.

Then the defendant's attorney took the witness in hand under cross-examination.

"Where did Pfunder sleep when you lived at the Winters Hotel after the death of your husband?"

"He slept with the dishwasher."

"Did he sleep there all the time?"

"We object," interrupted Mr. Button. "We do not see that this question is material."

"Its materiality does not appear at this time," said Mr. Hall, with a suspicious smile.

"Now, after your husband died didn't you talk with Pfunder about being married?"

"He asked me about getting married in April, 1886. I told him I would not marry so soon after my husband's death."

"Didn't you want to marry him?"

"Me marry him? No sir."

"After your husband died didn't you take Pfunder away from the dishwasher's room and give him the best room you had in the hotel?"

"No, sir, I did not. One time when he was sick and about to die he changed his room and got a better one."

"You gave the room to him. Did you not?"

"No, sir. I did not. He put himself in there."

"By whom was the room occupied before he took it?"

"By a bricklayer."

"Didn't he afterward go to your private house with the understanding that you were to marry him?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't he want you to go to San Francisco, and Eve and did you object and say, 'Oh, come along, we are going to be married?'"

"I never said anything of the kind. The case is still on trial.

THE REASON WHY.

A. W. Pattiani Explains His Difficulty With Big Smith.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—During my absence I find that a person, commonly known as Big Smith, has screwed up sufficient courage to swear out a warrant for my arrest on a charge wherein he has not a scintilla of proof and no other motive than that of linking my name with unpleasant accusation. Ever since I gave this fellow several notices to quit my office he has let no opportunity pass to insult and annoy me, culminating in unpleasant events that occurred while defending my property and character against the assaults of an individual who I believe is devoid of property, even to the extent of a dog tag; and, therefore, he is fully aware that I can not punish him for his unjust accusation.

WORK ON THE CANAL.

An Injunction Sued Out Against the Contractors.

The work on the tidal canal, near Twenty-third avenue, may be stopped for a few days, owing to an injunction suit brought this morning by A. B. Swan against the San Francisco Bridge Company to restrain them from depositing mud, etc., on lands to which he has a lease for two years. He also asks for $300 damages. An injunction has been issued and the case will be heard in court in a few days. Dodge & Frey represent the plaintiff.

Full of Years.

Mrs. Lucinda C. Morgan died last evening at 1217 Castro street at the ripe old age of 79 years. She was a native of New York, and has resided in this city about fourteen years. The dead lady was the widow of the late Edward D. Morgan, who during his lifetime was quite a prominent citizen. She leaves several daughters, namely, Mrs. Charles Clayton, Mrs. Wales L. Palmer, Mrs. William H. Quinn, and Mrs. Eldridge G. Buswell.

Colonel Robinson's nine crowned with glory, walked up Broadway last night, and were saluted as conquerors.

By winning their sixth straight game yesterday they are now in the lead. The engle eye of Colonel Tom is upon the silken flag, and the soft winds of November will unfurl its folds over the clubrooms of the champion.

O'Neill almost created a panic at the Galindo Hotel last night by his terrific yells of "Ginger up; slide slide, and the pennant's ours." He was dreaming and imagined that he was touching in yesterday's game.

Oakland has recorded its mortgage on the pennant, and will foreclose in November.

This is how it stood in yesterday's game:

Why They Stand.

Although it is said that the paraffine on April 29th in San Francisco was intended in honor of the centennial of Washington's inauguration, it is ascertained that those who were called upon to make speeches understand the cause as an entirely different one. It is said by the men themselves that they only offered to stand because it would have the effect of showing that Joe Lancaster, the artist tailor, made their clothes and the paraffine was in honor of Joe. His clothes are the best in Oakland.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" hair-dressing. It restores the color and vigor of youth to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken, and imparts a delightful but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they only brought a growth of fine, downy hair. I finally concluded to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using about one bottle, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Mulkay, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigoro is growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. I. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

HIGH OR LOW?

And What Is High and What Is Low?

Views of Some Councilmen on These Question.

Con Brosnahan's Experiences in a Prohibition State—J. C. McAvoy on the Burning Issue.

The license question is very far from settled, and the more talk there is over the matter the less likelihood there is of any conclusion being reached. Each side is determined that its position shall be maintained, and each side is standing on its dignity. Monday night will work a change. The various sides will get right down from its dignity, roll up its sleeves and go to work. Marquis of Queensbury rules, to a finish.

Con Brosnahan comes from the Sixth ward, the little ward down on the marsh that got all the political pap this year—the Ohio of Oakland politics, for no man that does not come from the Sixth ward can get any recognition before the people of the city. Con Brosnahan says that he is a low license man for the justice of it. Con was once a saloon keeper, and then he became a wharfinger under the State Harbor Commissioners, and then he became Councilman. But Con says that he is going to earn an honest living by the sweat of his brow, and he is not going to rest on his laurels as Councilman. So Con has laid down his salary as wharfinger and has picked up the paint brush and gone to work as any ordinary citizen. And day by day he earns his daily bread in James Galvin's carriage manufactory, not a stone's throw from the City Hall.

"I'm not living off the Council, and I'm not getting anything out of this, but if you've got any old wagons to paint bring them around."

And while everybody is talking high or low license and wondering what will happen next Monday night, Con Brosnahan is quietly laying his brush over the scratched and scarred bodies of old wagons in the loft of James Galvin's carriage shop.

"I know something about high license and low license and prohibition myself, and all these fellows getting up and talking about high license and prohibition don't make a particle of change in my opinion. I used to keep a saloon in the Sixth ward but I wouldn't keep the best saloon in Oakland now.

"I was raised in a prohibition country from the time I was 2 months old until I was 21 years of age. I was brought up in Vermont and spent a good portion of my life around in Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts, and I know a little bit about the workings of high license and prohibition laws in those States. I was in Massachusetts when they had a prohibition law and I never saw more drunkenness in that State than at that time. There was drunken men everywhere.

"Any man that wanted a drink would get one without any trouble. I have seen a man go into a room without any furniture in it, and one would think that it was absolutely empty. When a man who knew the secret of the place wanted a drink he simply touched a little spring in the wainscoating and a panel will fly back and there will be a bottle and a couple of glasses, and you take your drink and pay your money.

"Then there is another way they have of burying the beer or liquor in the ground and leading it into the house and up through a stanchion through pipes, and thus into the house or store. Then it is pumped out.

"You can join a club, and get all the liquor you want, or you can join a club and pay the price of a drink, and when you want another drink, join over again. There are several clubs in Oakland now where you can get all the liquor you want, and what will there be when we get a prohibition law?

"I don't owe the saloon men anything, for nearly every saloon man in the Sixth ward voted for Pierce. He was their friend, and they voted for him, and I don't blame them, for he was their friend. But I feel that it is merely justice to the keepers of these small shops. Here is a man who owns a little store. On the corner is a little grocery with a saloon back of it. There are, perhaps, a couple of little stores along side of the grocery. One will be a branch bakery, with a family living in the rear. The other will be a little fancy goods and notion store. If you put the license way up and drive out the grocery, you drive out the two other little stores, for they only subsist on the trade brought by the grocery. The man who owns the building is worth about $5000, and his place is mortgaged for about $1500. If he loses those rents his little place is sold out to one of these high license rich men. I can't see the justice of that, and if I can't keep the license down to $50 per quarter I am willing to vote for $1000 per quarter.

J. C. McAvoy hails from the Fourth ward, and he is one of those who vote with the low license members. Mr. McAvoy is home on his convictions, and says:

"If I can't have the license at $50 per quarter I want it at some figure that would make it prohibitory. I am afraid that $1000 would not make it prohibitory, but I would vote for prohibition. I began in this city twenty-five years ago herding cattle out in the hills of San Pablo and back of Piedmont. I was barefoot and ragged, and got $5 per month. I was told by my friends that if I would run for Councilman they would stand by me, and I agreed. License never was mentioned, and no high license men ever came to see me. One or two of my supporters and friends did come to me and ask me not to vote for a higher license than the present one. They told me that they kept respectable little places that would have to close up under a higher license than $50 per quarter. I made no promises, but I feel that I cannot legislate in favor of the rich man and against the poor man. If any saloons are to be closed up, let's close them all.

"I think that Mr. Canniff is only a little bit mad, and as soon as he cools off that he will again demand a license of $100 per quarter, and I think that the license will be fixed at that."

Lorin.

The new hall at Alcatraz station is receiving its first coat of paint.

The Park Church is being hard finished inside. The plasterers will be through by to-morrow.

West Oakland.

Merchants generally report trade good at present.

J. F. Sill has sold his bakery on Wood street to Mrs. E. A. Smith.

Sunset Rebekah Degree Lodge and Occidental Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., both meet this evening.

Walter F. Price has sold E. J. White some valuable property on Fourteenth street, near Center.

Rev. Dr. Bothwell of the Chase street Congregational Church is expected to return from New Orleans this week.

Gospel temperance meetings are being held at the Athenæum, corner of Wood and Goss streets, every Sunday evening.

The picnic to be given by the employes of the railroad company on Saturday next will be the grandest one yet undertaken.

Albert A. Kimball has sold to Homer W. Price improved property on the west side of Union street, 140 feet south from Tenth.

H. C. Kroenke has leased the saloon at the corner of Seventh and Wood streets, in the James block, for five years at $60 a month.

John A. Anderson has purchased from Paul B. Steller, property on the east side of Kirkham street, 125 north from Eighth street, 25x115 feet, for $3200.

The engineers have been notified that the dry season is at hand and to exercise care that the fire preventing apparatus attached to their locomotives are in order.

D. C. McPherson, a railroad employe, was thrown from a wagon yesterday on West Seventh street and severely injured. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Espejo, the daughter of the late Captain James, intends spending $4000 in improving the James block. The work of constructing a brick foundation was commenced yesterday.

East Oakland.

The trees in the yard of the Garfield school are being removed.

The store of C. P. Harlenberg is being renovated and repaired.

Dan Sullivan is confined to his home on Fourth avenue by illness.

Joe Fonte will leave for Portland, Or., in a few days for a month's sojourn.

The Presbyterian Church of Fruit Vale gave an ice cream social last evening.

The cars of the Brooklyn and Fruit Vale Railroad Company are being repainted.

Jeffreys & White are erecting a building at Twenty-third avenue, to be used as a real estate office when finished.

A building is being erected on Twenty-third avenue, near the station. Jeffreys & White will occupy it as a real estate office.

All but one of the street cars of the Brooklyn and Fruit Vale line have been repainted, and the exception will be painted next week.

An ice cream social was held last evening in the Presbyterian Church of Fruit Vale. A large number were in attendance. The church was tastefully decorated.

A new building is to be constructed on the corner of East Twelfth street and Twenty-third avenue. It is to be occupied by Frank Fisher as a tinning and plumbing establishment.

The formal opening of the East Oakland Athletic Club will be held this evening at the club rooms in Hanapel Hall, on East Twelfth street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues.

Frank Fisher, a tinner and plumber on Twenty-third avenue, will soon erect a building on the corner of Twenty-third avenue and East Twelfth street, where his business will be conducted in the future.

The Brooklyn Presbyterian Church has arranged for a railroad and steamboat excursion to Petaluma, and return, on Saturday. The train will leave Brooklyn at 8 A. M., and the boat will leave the Tiburon landing in San Francisco at 9:20 A. M.

Golden Gate.

James Davis and Charlie Warner will attend the Native Sons' ball at Haywards to-night.

Charlie Dean, it is said, is making a collection of specimens, among which are an assortment of auger holes.

C. A. Janssen, the druggist, now makes up a quantity of ice cream, which he disposes of on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Davis family will have a grand reunion on the 15th inst. Some of the family will arrive from England on the day previous.

The meat market adjoining Watkins's grocery store will reopen on Monday next, and Butcher Esmond will have a lively competitor.

Letters are held at the Golden Gate Postoffice for postage due, addressed to J. S. Robinson, Hanford, Cal., and Mrs. J. Cronin, 727 Bryant street, San Francisco.

J. W. McGiven, Superintendent of the tack factory at the Judson Iron Works, has purchased a lot of vines which will be shipped to his ranch at Fresno. Mr. McGiven intends to grow the raisin grape exclusively.

The man named Carr, who was arrested on complaint of J. C. Sullivan for disturbing the peace, was defended so ably by Attorney Murray Laidlaw in Justice Snook's court that he was promptly found not guilty.

Last night some of the unknown toughs who have been working about Golden Gate recently broke into the blacksmith shop and stole a number of valuable tools. The rest were scattered promiscuously about, and the front door was found open this morning.

AMUSEMENTS.

The attendance at the Oakland Theater last night was not as large by any means as a troupe like the Cecilian Opera Company deserved. Notwithstanding the slimness of the house, yet they gave a delightful entertainment of song. It is not often that this city is favored with an excellent opera company, and it is to be regretted that when one does come it is not better supported by Oakland Theater goers. To-night the company will repeat a portion of last night's programme, and give selections from the garden scene of Faust. Those who wish to hear really first class artists should not fail to attend this theater to-night.

To-morrow night and Sunday Peck's Bad Boy will be produced at the Oakland.

At the Park Theater the Marble Heart is still the attraction.

The Godair family will give a concert on evening of May 9th at the Oakland Theater for the benefit of the relief fund Lyon Post and Relief Corps.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

COUNCILMAN COLLINS.

He Complains That the Liquor Men are Pursuing Him.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, while Councilman Collins was in San Francisco, a United States Inspector of Internal Revenue entered that gentleman's store and proceeded to make a thorough search for liquors which he claimed Mr. Collins was selling without either a city or government license. The clerk in charge of the store showed the inspector half a barrel of port wine and about as much whisky and informed him that none of the liquor was being sold and that it was what he had left at the time of the expiration of the license. The officer said that he understood that beer was sold in the store, and that the last was purchased on the 19th of March last. He was informed that the beer was intended for Mr. Collins's home consumption, and after examining that gentleman's stock of tobacco and finding the license to sell that had run out he left word that it must be renewed at once and then withdrew.

Mr. Collins was greatly surprised when he returned and was informed of the visit of the Revenue Inspectors. This afternoon to a TRIBUNE reporter he said: "Yes, the liquor men have been after me. Through an inspector of revenue they thought to catch me in a trap, but by this time they have found out that there is nothing wrong with my place. The beer I have been in the habit of buying for my table at home, and it is only necessary to refer to his knowledge of the time when I bought the last to show that the Hoffburg Brewing Company had given him the information. My clerk told the inspector that I had not sold any liquor since my Government license had expired a long time ago, and that no liquors were kept for sale. He discovered that my tobacco license was behind, and requested that I pay it, and of course I went to San Francisco this morning and fixed that all right. The liquor men here complained to the revenue authorities, and it was merely for the purpose of giving me trouble and hoping that perhaps they might catch me at something of which they could fling mud." Mr. Collins states further that the City Council want to drive out all the disreputable houses where liquor is sold, and that if they find the license not high enough to accomplish that end they will keep on increasing it until all the saloons are forced to go out of business.

CHARITABLE LADIES.

The Relief Society Meet, Elect Officers, and Do Other Work.

The directors of the Ladies' Relief Society met yesterday at the home on Broadway and Moss avenue for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as might come before the meeting.

The officers elected for the ensuing term are: President, Mrs. L. E. Dam; First Vice President, Mrs. E. C. Williams; Second Vice President, Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth; Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. J. Ralston; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Jessie Campbell; Treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Miner.

Board of Directors—Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, R. G. Brown, J. A. Janin, Miss Jessie Campbell, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. L. E. Dam, Mrs. Van L. Eastland, Mrs. C. J. Hawley, Mrs. A. Lilienerantz, Mrs. E. G. Mathews, Mrs. J. E. McElrath, Miss A. E. Miner, Mrs. A. J. Ralston, Mrs. J. L. N. Shepard, Mrs. E. C. Williams.

Managers—Mrs. Walter Beck, Mrs. C. C. Clay, Mrs. B. F. Dunham, Mrs. W. E. Hale, Mrs. E. H. Kittridge, Mrs. J. Maury, Mrs. Van Orden, Miss Blake, Miss L. Playter, Mrs. Sarah Shafter, Mrs. J. Wall, Mrs. H. Wadsworth, Mrs. Robert Watt, Miss Kean, and Mrs. G. W. Henshaw.

After the reading of the reports, a motion to change the constitution regarding the election of officers, so as to make it conform to the charter, was adopted. Among other matters shown in the report, it appeared that there were 216 children cared for during the year; that there are twenty-seven old ladies in the home; and fifteen babies under 2 years of age in the nursery. The expenses of the home average $1200 a month.

A CHURCH CONCERT.

An Excellent Programme for the One at the Christian Church.

Mrs. Sweeney, the estimable wife of Rev. Dr. Sweeney of the Christian Church, at the corner of Thirteenth and Market streets, has spared no time nor trouble to make the concert which she and her young lady helpers will give at the church named to-night a success. The programme to be rendered is as follows:

Male quartet, "The Scout"..... Campana
Messrs. Baker, Lloyd, Lawrence, and Hamilton.
Piano solo, "Rondo Capriccioso"..... Mendelssohn
Mrs. Hugo Mansfeldt.
Baritone solo..... Selected

Soprano solo, "Love, the Pilgrim"..... Blumenstal
Miss Carrie Northey-Roma.
Duo, "Qual Mare, Qual Terre"..... Verdi
Miss Fannie Dam and E. E. Crandall.
Miss Mae Hanford accompanist.

At the close of the above exercises refreshments will be served in the parlors of the church. Tickets for the concert may be obtained at Bowman's and Kirkland & Trowbridge's drug stores.

Virginia's Varsity.

The Pacific Coast Alumni of the University of Virginia celebrated its sixty-fourth anniversary last Wednesday night with a banquet. Among the Oaklanders present were W. W. Foote and Mayor John R. Glascock. The former responded to the toast "Thomas Jefferson" and the latter to "The Alumni."

Machinists' Merry Making.

The machinists at the railroad company's shops at West Oakland, accompanied by their wives and families will leave at 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning by special train for Niles Canyon to spend a day at the picnic grounds there. Mr. Wilder, of the company, has tendered the party a special train free of charge, and has in other ways shown the kind feeling he has for the men working in the yards.

Old Ladies' Tea.

The directors of the Old Ladies' Home will give an "old ladies' tea" on Saturday, the 18th inst., to which the public will be invited to attend the reception. No admission will be charged.

NOW IN THE SPRING OF THE YEAR,

During Winter, Nature wisely arranges that we should live on foods containing much fat, or as they are known, hydrocarbons, for the purpose of supplying heat to the body. The chemical operation necessary to transform fat into heat is the exclusive work of the liver, and so during the time stated it is constantly congested.

With the approach of warm weather our diet changes to muse-procuring food, and the work of the liver is much lessened. In the majority of cases, however, it is found impossible to completely throw off the excess of bile, but remains congested, causing that lazy, tired feeling which many have in the Spring months when the weather becomes warm.

This is evidence of an unhealthy condition, and though people appreciate the necessity of an alterative at this period, the common idea is to take drastic pills and produce a cathartic effect, only to make matters worse. The liver must be unloaded, and its proper action restored before hot weather, if you wish to preserve health, and if this disorder call of nature is unheeded serious results will occur.

The blood will become loaded with bile and lithic acid, and as every drop of vital fluid passes through the kidneys to be purified, they soon break down and are unable to carry out the deadly poison. Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Safe Pills have not only a specific action on the kidneys, but on the liver also.

They thin the thickened bile so that it will pass off through its ducts, enable the gland to unload themselves, act, as a solvent on all biliary acids and in a word fit these great organs for the person's work, preventing blood poisoning, inflammation, abscess, and the afflictions to which they are so liable.

As you value the blessings of health, do not allow the summer to approach without giving your system a "general house cleaning," in the manner we have it directed.

"To be forewarned is to be forearmed."

GROVE STREET LOTS.

An Auction Sale to Be Held To-morrow Afternoon.

The best offer ever made of real estate in this city is now being made by W. J. Dingee, who offers for sale at public auction seventeen choice building lots on the west side of Grove street, below Thirty-fourth street. The ground is all high, and well drained, and the street has just been macadamized and sewered.

To-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, this property will be sold at public auction on the ground. The lots are all of a uniform size, and elevated three feet above the level of the street. No section of the city is improving so rapidly as this, and its closeness to the San Pablo and Telegraph avenues lines of cars makes the location very desirable for residence purposes. The terms are only one quarter cash, and the balance in three equal payments to be made yearly. The street is the broadest driveway in Oakland and is rapidly being built on by property holders.

Free Excursions to Merced.

The regular trains on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week from Oakland, and in fact from all coast centers, will be crowded with excursionists going to Merced, and reports from eastern cities are facts, a throng of eastern people will arrive in Merced during the week. Messrs. Briggs, Fergusson & Co. are responsible for this unusual activity in railroad business, and the excitement has been brought about by their most liberal offer of free transportation to all who may purchase lands at their great six days' colony sale to be held during the entire week at Merced. A reporter from the TRIBUNE called at their office to-day and was shown a dispatch from their Chicago office, which said that already over 1000 free transportation certificates had been issued there to people coming to California to attend the sale, and reports from the New York office point to a large number of excursionists from the Atlantic cities. This is an important event for Merced, the San Joaquin Valley, and in fact to the whole State. It marks a new era in the policy of California, the plan of furnishing free transportation to settlers never having been tried here, and the success with which it has met is a testimonial to the business sagacity of the Company inaugurating the idea.

The Same Old Story

Was asked Dr. Birkett the other day a lady patient. "Will you give me full instructions concerning my diet during treatment?" The doctor replied I want you to follow your customary mode of living, eating what your appetite craves within the bounds of reason, as I will prepare the gastric juices of the stomach, according to your individual case, as I always treat each case according to the indications present. I have now over fifty chronic cases under treatment in Oakland and San Francisco, and to those who will call at my office I will show facts and credentials, so the doubting can call on any of the number, as many have done in the past week to satisfy themselves concerning my treatment. Office, 1069 Broadway, corner Twelfth street. Chronic diseases a specialty, especially indigestion, sympathetic heart trouble, and skin diseases. Consultation free in all cases.

is acknowledged by all who have visited it to be the superior of any other within the State. The remarkable growth of the beautiful orange groves has been commented upon by experts in orange culture. Of the 1500 acres planted in fruit here, two-thirds of it is in deciduous trees, which goes to show that the land is not only adapted to citrus but to other fruits as well. After deducting the 1500 acres actually used in this way for the benefit of the company, as with irrigation the balance of its lands from the start, for 3 years. A perpetual water right goes with the land to be sold.

THE PASSING SHOW.

News of the Stage and the Players.

easons Fast Closing All Over the Country.

New Actors Coming Into Notice, New Plays Which Will Claim Attention in the Autumn.

Now the matter of posting bills is to the fore, it might be well to weigh the value of a posted bill.

In New York the leading managers are rapidly giving up wall paper, and doing their advertising more and more through the medium of the newspapers, which they are growing to look upon as giving the best returns. The same tendency is beginning to be felt in other large cities, and soon flaming posters will be left to cheap companies touring country circuits.

The matter of bill posters has made a little flurry during the week, and that has been really the only interest in the drama displayed in the city. The record is a brief one: Bunch of Keys two nights at the Oakland Theater, Cecilian Opera Company last night at the same house and billed for to-night, Marble Heart at the Park Theater, and that is all.

Saturday and Sunday nights Jack's Bad Boy will be given at the Oakland Theater. This company has for its advance agent Charles Bert, the former lessee of this house and Dietz Opera House.

SPLINTERS FROM THE BOARDS.

Margaret Mather will shortly produce a new play.

Little Lord Fauntleroy will be done in the Antipodes next season.

Miss Emily Kean has resumed her season as soubrette with Barry and Fay.

Old Nick (Roberts), after playing the devil in California, is in New York.

Mahomet will be the name of Henry Irving's new play. It is from the French.

Dan Kelly, the young California comedian, has been engaged for the comedy part in A Noble Son.

Ullie Akerstrom is a young lady of far more than ordinary literary ability. She has just published a volume of poems.

E. J. Buckley is teaching Sol Berliner to spar. It is a wise precaution when a man is going to be a theatrical manager.

Thatcher, Primrose, and West have engaged H. W. Fridman, Thomas B. Dixon, and Wood and Shepard for their California tour.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons is ravaging Canada with her readings. She is still in favor over the line; but the States are a little weary of her.

Miss Nellie Wilmot of the Said Pasha Company was recently married to Charles Turrian, and has retired permanently from the stage.

Mrs. Alice Shaw, the whistler, is not creating the sensation throughout the country that was expected. In many places the attendance is rather skimp.

Charles Frohman will go to California this summer, as usual, in the interests of the Lyceum Theater Company, in the road business of which he is heavily interested.

Miss Helen Bancroft has dropped out of Miss Marie Wainwright's prospective support, and also out of her good graces. Quarreled over the cut of a gown for Twelfth Night.

It is usually about this time of year that the returning actors settle up their little differences of the season by "scrapping" on the Rialto. Who will open the ball this spring?

It is reported that Howell Osborne has become a professional card-sharp in Paris. There had not previously existed a widespread opinion that Mr. Osborne excelled in sharpness in any direction.

Alice Vane, who now signs herself "mother of Fay Templeton," has signed to sing part of the summer away with Spencer's Opera company at Buffalo. She is reengaged with Zig-Zag next season.

Mme. Rhea has really made a marked success in The Case Velel, if the Baltimore and Washington papers are to be believed. The play is from the same source as that which inspired Sardou's Fedora.

They say there is one theater in New York that is giving out passes at the rate of from 250 to 350 "doubles" every night. There are performers whom people positively will not go to see—and you can't always blame them.

Captain Swift, successful in London and New York, is a fizzle in Australia. It was written by a native of that part of the world, who now realizes the profound fact that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country.

Rose Harrison Thorne, recently married, if not lately won, has sued her husband, Edward F. Thorne, for divorce, in California. The lady is obviously determined to flourish in the guise of that rara avis, a Rose without a Thorne.

A big streak of luck has fallen across the path of Rhea. Some time ago, at the suggestion of a friend, the lady invested in real estate in Seattle, Wash., to the amount of $5000. The tip proved straight; the property is now worth $60,000.

Archie Boyd was selected from among a big lot of comedians to play "Uncle Josh" in the road Old Homestead next season. He was not an applicant, and his selection put a good many noses out of joint. Many veterans thought the plum would fall into their laps, but it didn't. Boyd is a young man in the early thirties.

A novelty in dressing musicians will be introduced in George Wilson's minstrel entertainment next season. As the curtain rises the musicians will be discovered on the stage dancing a Highland fling, costumed in plaidies and kilts, with faces and legs corked. This ought to be a corker. However, George is in need of novelties.

Charley Thomas bought eleven lottery tickets last month, and gave "Dusty Bob" Hinkley his choice. Robert chose his ticket and it drew a small prize. It was the only one of the eleven that came anywhere within gunshot of the mark. "Dusty" was consequently jubilant, while an air of gentle dejection pervaded the atmosphere beyond his immediate person.

W. J. Fleming closed his Around the World in Eighty Days on Saturday night. The tour has been exceptionally successful. Mr. Fleming joins in the general complaint that the railroads, taking advantage of the powers given them by the Interstate Bill, are rubbing the theatrical managers as hard as they possibly can. Mr. Fleming's railway bill this season ran as high as $450 a week.

Greater than usual has been the number of early closures this season. Among managers there seems to be a very widespread and wholesome dread of the spring business, and many combinations that had no particular reason to expect reduced receipts have been called in. More and more general is the tendency to play short seasons. It is good for the managers, but rough on the actors.

Paul Nicholson is figuring upon a proposition to manage Minnie Maddern next season. Arthur Miller, whose sagacity and untiring industry have done a great deal toward establishing Miss Maddern's fortunes, will probably be too busily engaged in the booking business at Frohman's to give personal attention to the Maddern tours. It is rumored, by the way, that the lady's projected marriage is off.

Margaret Mather is going to make a big tour of the West under the direction of M. Hayman. She will appear through Oregon and in the important towns on the principal portion of the Northern Pacific railroad, through British Columbia. She will go by rail from Oregon to San Francisco, where she plays at the Baldwin Theater, after which she will play her way east via Los Angeles, Salt Lake and Denver. She will be supported by Messrs. Gilmore and Tompkins' company, and under their management.

It is declared that Henry E. Dixey has withdrawn from all the Rice enterprises excepting Adonis, and even in that has gone back to the old arrangement by which he took 25 per cent of the gross receipts for his personal services, leaving all the business arrangements to Mr. Rice. According to this assertion there is no longer such a firm as Rice & Dixey. If all the actor stuck to this arrangement from the start, he would have been worth at least $300,000 to-day. He is by no means poor, but his available fortune is not large. Adonis had been played to over $1,750,000.

Charles Warner, by all odds the greatest English actor of this generation, is having an unparalleled career in Australia. His business has been enormous, and he remains in the country nine months more. After that he will probably come to America on his way home, and he may be induced to play a brief engagement in New York. He is accompanied by his daughter, a young and charming girl, who has made great hits in "Galatea" and "Ophelia."

The sudden illness of Miss Anderson was a heavy blow to the fortunes of Mr. Abbey, who has been counting on the profits of her tour to meet certain important contingencies. When everything was going on so swimmingly with his affairs it was pretty tough luck to run upon such a snag. Abbey will, of course, pull through all right, for he is full of pluck and gameness. However he may be personally regarded, one cannot help admiring his courage and squareness in success and disaster.

Responsibility for the dramatic version of "Robert Elsmere," which is now being taken through the country prior to its presentation in this city, has not been denied by William Gillette, whose complicity in this perversion of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's noble work is consequently accepted as a settled fact. It is strange that Mr. Gillette, who not long ago bade fair to take honorable place among the dramatic writers of this country, should have sacrificed his integrity by appropriating Mrs. Ward's novel in the face of her emphatic protest, and after having publicly announced his intention of abandoning the idea altogether. Our judgment on the artistic merits of Mr. Gillette's piece must be reserved until it is seen on the metropolitan stage; but Mrs. Ward can find some solace for the outrageous assault upon her property in the adverse tone of the criticisms with which the production is meeting out of town.—New York Mirror.

An exchange tells of a would be actor who applied to Mr. Palmer for a position. Mr. Palmer, in his quiet way, said:

"What claim have you to being an actor, and why do you adopt the stage as a profession?"

"Well," replied the W. B. A., "you know I must live."

"Not necessarily," replied Mr. Palmer.

This recalls another story of this long suffering manager, who, by the way, is reported to have read 7000 plays during the past seventeen years—all bad but four. A well known theatrical agent called upon him in regard to an aspiring young Thespian who had been in one of the U. S. road companies.

"Does he know anything, Mr. Palmer?" asked the agent.

"Know anything!" repeated Mr. Palmer, with tragic emphasis, and then in a hoarse whisper: "My dear boy, he doesn't even suspect anything!"

Emma Juch had an experience at Taunton, Mass., which she will not forget for sometime. The company returned to Boston after the performance at Taunton on the 10:30 train. On arrival at Mansfield the valise containing Miss Juch's jewels was missed. The locomotive which drew the train was immediately chartered to return to Taunton with her manager and if possible find the lost gems. The distance, eleven miles, was made in twelve minutes. The night watchman, in going his rounds, found a valise lying on one of the sofas where it had been carelessly left, and had just placed it in the baggage room when in came the panting locomotive and its panting passengers inquiring about a lost valise. The one found was produced, and a smile, a serene, riant smile spread over the manager's face. Now came the real issue, to get back to Mansfield with the jewels in time to catch the train for Boston. Eleven miles away and fifteen minutes to get there; but they did it, and the most pleased person on that train was Miss Juch. Cost of carelessness, $70; estimated value of jewels, $5000.

One day she dined with a gentleman and observed a beautiful silver vase filled with flowers.

"Oh!" said Rachel. How beautiful!"

"If you will accept the bouquet you are welcome to it, mademoiselle."

"Ah, non, monsieur! It is not the bouquet I admire so much, it is the vase."

"Mademoiselle, it is yours if you desire it, said the gallant host."

Before leaving the house Rachel asked the loan of his horses and carriage, saying "that she could not think of taking such a valuable vase in a hired cab. He granted the request, and as he handed her into the carriage remarked:

"Mademoiselle will not forget to return my horses?"

Madame Dis de Bar occupied a box at Dockstader's last week during the performance of Kellar, and threw a bunch of roses, with unerring aim, at one of the Spanish Students on the stage. It fell upon a bald headed but otherwise unoffending man in the orchestra, while the musicians, with wierd inspiration, struck up "With All Her Faults I Love Her Still."

DEAFNESS CAN'T BE CURED by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

SAN LEANDRO POLITICS.

A People's Ticket Put Into the Field.

Pursuant to a written call posted about the town, signed "By Order of the Committee," calling a meeting of the "Citizens" in the town hall for Wednesday evening, about 150 of the "Citizens" assembled at the time and place named in the call. The meeting was called to order by D. McCarthy, and he, on motion of J. A. Gallett, was elected chairman and J. Quinn was elected secretary. J. A. Gallett, F. Meyer, N. Hanson, J. T. Gill, and L. Kenworthy were appointed a Committee on Resolutions and Order of Business. This committee, after a short absence in the ante room, returned and made their report, but before the report was read Mr. Gallett offered a resolution which was adopted that no one who had taken part in any other caucus this spring should be allowed to take part in this. The resolutions reported and adopted were as follows:

"Resolved, That the object of this meeting is to nominate a People's Ticket on a platform of equal taxation and justice to all.

"Resolved, That we do not believe that property can have one sworn to cash value for State and County purposes and a different sworn to cash value for town purposes, and that in some cases three times as high as the State and County valuation; therefore be it further

"Resolved, That we are in favor of electing the State and County assessments and our town assessments on the same basis of valuation.

"Resolved, That we are in favor of taxing Chinese wash houses every time."

In accordance with the report the meeting then proceeded to nominate a full ticket in each case, except for Assessor, by acclamation or by the Secretary casting the ballot, as follows:

For Trustees—B. D. Gray, T. P. Cary, J. A. Estudillo, N. L. Hansen.

Clerk—James Quinn.

Marshal—L. J. Martin.

Treasurer—F. Meyers.

Assessor—F. H. Williams and William Shuman were put in nomination and voted for by ballot, which resulted in twenty-one for Williams and nineteen for Shuman and one blank. Williams was then declared the nominee unanimously.

A Town Central Committee was then appointed, consisting of J. A. Gallett, James Quinn, Antone Estudillo, L. Kenworthy, and C. Iverson, and the meeting adjourned.

The following is the Citizens' High License ticket:

Trustees—L. C. Morehouse, Frederick Bryant, J. M. Estudillo, C. P. Rideout, John Black.

Clerk—N. G. Sturtevant, Incumbent.

Marshal—J. L. Martin.

Assessor—W. W. Reid.

Treasurer—A. Bjorkman.

DRUNKENNESS

(Or the Liquor Habit), Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea with out the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a confirmed drunkard or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by all druggists in Oakland. Trade supplied by J. R. GATES & CO., San Francisco, Cal.

Important Testimony by Parnell on Cross Examination.

Special to the Oakland Tribune by Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Senate investigation Committee, which has been directed to inquire into the report whether any railroad lines in the United states are owned or controlled by the Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific or other Canadian railroads or whether any American freight has been diverted to Canadian lines, will probably not begin its labors before to-morrow, owing to the absence of some of the members. The committee has invited to appear before it Commissioner Fink, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific, and General Manager Hickson of the Grand Trunk.

Methodist Conference at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, May 3.—The twenty-first conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, San Francisco district, is now in session in this city. There is a good attendance, and the reports of pastors show an encouraging condition of the various churches in the district.

A FATAL FIRE.

Four Children Roasted to Death Near Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 3.—A fire at Abingdon last night destroyed the house of Charles Williams. Four children, aged from 6 to 15 years, were burned to death. Williams and his wife escaped with the baby, who will probably die.

TRAIN'S FAST.

He Sits Shivering in a Flood of May Sunshine.

NEW YORK, May 3.—George Francis Train has passed the fourteenth day of total abstinence from food and drink except water and a little weak lemonade. He is growing perceptibly thinner, and says his weight is now only 171. Train was sitting indoors wrapped in a heavy fur trimmed coat, and yet he shivered in a May day sunshine streaming in at the windows. He said: "I watch all my symptoms closely, and the observations I am now taking may be of considerable value to medical scientists. I am not, as some people declare, trying to commit suicide. I am not fasting to die, but fasting to live. I believe we are on the eve of a great pestilence, and I shall be able to meet it better if I get rid of what is known as my superfluous adipose tissue, but is in reality nothing but rot. I do not put any limit to the period of my fast. I do not feel moved to break it yet—that is all. I may eat to-morrow, and I may fast for 100 days."

BLAINE.

He Comes Back to His Work—Minister Pauncefote.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Blaine appeared at the State Department this morning showing no traces of his recent illness. The British Minister, Pauncefote, was introduced to Blaine, who presented him to the President.

Sir Julian presented his credentials, and addressing the President gave expression to his feeling of the utmost good will and amity on the part of his Government and himself personally toward the United States, and his belief that this country fully reciprocated the feeling, and that he would meet with justice and a spirit of conciliation.

President Harrison replied briefly, reciprocating the sentiments expressed by the new Minister.

WILL MOVE TO CHICAGO.

The Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe's Headquarters.

CHICAGO, May 3.—It is announced that the general offices of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe will shortly be removed to Chicago from Topeka. Traffic Manager White has already removed his office to this city and President Strong will soon change his headquarters from Boston to Chicago. The financial headquarters will remain at Boston.

SQUIRE P. DEWEY.

His Funeral Largely Attended in New York.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The funeral of Squire Pierce Dewey, the old Californian, took place to-day from the Collegiate Dutch Reformed Church. Rev. C. B. Cox conducted the services. The interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery. Among those in attendance were Chauncey M. Depew, Eugene Kelly, Whitelaw Reid, William Florence, Joseph J. O'Donohue, D. O. Mills, and a large delegation from the Union League Club.

A BRITISH WAR SHIP

Arrives With the Dead Body of the Surgeon on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—H. B. M. Steamship Amphion, Captain Hulton, arrived here this morning. James Vesey, the surgeon, died at sea of pneumonia, yesterday, off Monterey. The Amphion left this afternoon with the body for Victoria, where it will be interred in the Naval Cemetery.

THE ATCHISON

The Complexion of the New Directory Foreshadowed.

BOSTON, May 3.—President Strong and Director Cheney of the Atchison system left for Topeka last night to be present at the annual meeting May 6th. The somewhat surprising statement was made, and it is apparently authoritative, that they will vote the company's proxies for the Kidder-Peabody ticket. There is a well founded opinion that Strong will remain President of the company. It is learned that the new Board of Directors will be in all probability distinctively a "bankers' board"; that is, Drexel, Morgan & Co. and Brown Bros. & Co. will both have representatives.

PARNELL CROSS-EXAMINED.

He Considers William O'Brien's Policy too Extreme.

LONDON, May 5.—The cross-examination of Parnell was continued. Parnell testified that he often reproved William O'Brien, the editor of United Ireland, for the violent articles which appeared in that paper. He had not publicly repudiated the articles, because he did not consider that was the way to effect the alterations he desired in the tone of the articles. Parnell said he considered O'Brien's teachings were in advance of his own.

A LOS ANGELES DESPERADO.

Captured While Hiding in a Coal Yard and Well Armed.

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Jerry Smith, the desperado who escaped from Sheriff Aguirre last night, was captured at 4 o'clock this morning hiding in a yard. He was locked up for criminal assault. One of assault to murder will be preferred against him. The prisoner was found hatless and shoeless, hidden in a coal house, by the deputies who caught him. A loaded Colt's revolver and half a hundred cartridges were found upon him. Sheriff Aguirre is confined to his room.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Frauds in Oklahoma—A Census Appointment.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The President and Secretary of the Interior have called upon the United States officials in Oklahoma, charged in the report of the inspectors of the Interior Department with corrupt practices in connection with public lands in that territory for an explanation.

Henry Connett of the Geological society has been appointed biographer of the census.

BARNUM'S FUNERAL.

It Is Largely Attended by Prominent Politicians.

LIME ROCK, Conn., May 3.—At the funeral over the remains of Wm. H. Barnum, held from Trinity Church, there were special trains from New York and Hartford bringing mourners from all over the country. Among them are many prominent politicians, including ex-President Cleveland, Senator McDonald and Colonel Bright of Indiana, Calvin S. Brice, ex-Governor Loomis, C. M. Jordan, and many other personal and political friends of the dead man.

Lord Walter Campbell Dead.

LONDON, May 3.—Dispatches from South Africa announce the death from fever of Lord Walter Campbell, the third son of the Duke of Argyle, 41 years old.

Conybeare Sentenced.

DUBLIN, May 3.—The court at Falcarrash sentenced Charles Conybeare Member of Parliament, to three months' imprisonment for conspiring to oppose the law. The case was appealed, and Conybeare was released on bail.

Grain Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Wheat is very dull; buyer season, $1 03½; buyer '89, $1 07. Barley is dull; buyer season, 60½; buyer '89, 81½.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Wheat is firmer: cash 80c; June 80½c.

Weather Reports.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Temperature—New York, 56; Chicago, 46; St. Paul, 48; Winnipeg, 38; New Orleans, 62.

A New Viceroy.

LONDON, May 3.—The Freeman's Journal states that the Marquis of Ormonde will succeed Lord Londonderry as Viceroy of Ireland.

Struck by a Train.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—A coach containing several persons was struck by a train on the Pennsylvania road this morning. F. K. Womrath and James Dungan were killed and three others injured.

Dined and Wined.

BERLIN, May 3.—Herbert Bismarck gave a dinner this evening to the commissioners to the Samoan conference and members of the British and American legations.

A Costly Libel Suit.

SAN JOSE, May 3.—In the suit of A. R. Denike, vs. the Times Publishing Company, for $20,000 damages, the jury this morning returned a verdict for the plaintiff, fixing the damages at $5.

A YOUNG HEIRESS.

Miss Ada Dougherty Is Desirous of Traveling Abroad.

She Says That She Has Attained Her Majority and Wants a Portion of Her Legacy of $100,000.

Miss Ada Dougherty has a neat little fortune coming to her from the estate of her grandmother, Elizabeth Dougherty, but she does not desire to wait until the affairs of the estate are closed. The young lady is anxious to travel abroad and enjoy herself, and she desires the court to compel the executors to pay her a reasonable amount for her traveling expenses, and she further desires the possession of certain diamonds left her, and for this reason she filed a petition in the Superior Court late this afternoon citing the executors to appear and show cause why her petition should not be granted. The young heiress has employed J. C. Martin and Noble Hamilton to prosecute her claims in court. In her petition she sets forth that the estate of her grandmother was appraised at $45,000. By the terms of the will John Green and William Roberts were named as sole executors to act without bonds. The will was duly admitted to probate, and all claims against the large estate have now been paid. The report of the executors show that there is on deposit in the Oakland banks the sum of $22,995 under the control of the executors, and this sum will be annually increased by rents from lease and sales of farm products by Charles M. Dougherty, acting as surviving partner of the decedent. In her will Mrs. Dougherty made the following bequest to the petitioner: "I give and bequeath to my granddaughter, Ada Dougherty, my diamonds, my locket and chain, my watch and chain, my piano, all the furniture in the room formerly belonging to my daughter Ada, and a dress pattern of steel gray silk. Also, I give to my granddaughters Ada Dougherty and Bessie Dougherty my clothing, bedding and beds, table linen, and silver in equal shares. I further provide that the articles mentioned shall be delivered to the beneficiaries therein named when they shall reach respectively the age of majority."

It is further provided in the will: "All the rest of my estate I give to my four grandchildren, Ada, Bessie, James, and Louis Dougherty, share and share alike, the same to be delivered to their possession when the youngest shall reach the age of 21 years. I further provide, should any contingency arise whereby my grandchildren shall need any part of my estate for their comfortable maintenance or proper education during the time my estate shall remain in the hands of my executors: then I authorize them to pay from my estate such necessary sums and charge the same to the share of the one receiving it."

Miss Ada now informs the court that she is over the age of 18 years, having attained her majority on December 28, 1888. The young lady explains that she has no separate estate which will afford her a suitable income to maintain herself in the manner and style that her property will warrant and in the style she has been accustomed to. For her maintenance and education she says she has been dependent solely upon her father and will continue to be so dependent unless the court make her a suitable allowance. She avers that there is coming to her the sum of $100,000, which ought to yield her a monthly income of from $500 to $600 per month. In concluding the young lady says that she has just finished her schooling and is desirous of traveling for a time, and in such case she desires an allowance out of her portion of the estate, and asserts that $300 a month would be a reasonable amount. For these reasons she has caused the executors to be cited to appear to show cause why they should not deliver to her the diamonds, etc., and also pay to her $300 a month while traveling.

IN THE TANKS.

Charles Lynch Gets Out of One Case Into Another.

Charles Lynch was up in the Police Court this morning to attend to some little matters connected with several criminal suits against him. He was in San Mateo's office trying to prove to that officer that he should have his bail back in a case that had been dismissed. Mr. Lynch, however, had a hand up, and just as Sam. Mitchell had convinced him that he was not entitled to any bail money, he was quietly arrested and run down stairs into the tanks and charged with vagrancy. His friend, Harry J. Fitzpatrick, who was with him, was charged with the same offense.

AN EXPENSIVE AMUSEMENT.

It Will Cost Two Dollars to Jump on a Train.

Edward Lowell was arrested by Officer Coltie in East Oakland for train jumping; and this morning he was fined $2 or one day. "This has got to be stopped," said Judge Laidlaw, "and every boy that appears before me charged with this offense will receive that sentence, and in course of time they will find it a very expensive amusement. The sooner this is put a stop to the better it will be for the boys, and I hope that the officers will strictly enforce the ordinance."

SARAH ALTHEA'S CONTRACT.

A Famous Paper Burned in a Fire at Fresno.

In the Supreme Court this morning Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry was called on to produce the famous Sharon marriage contract. David M. Terry immediately arose and, looking toward the defendant's attorneys, in a triumphant manner said: "Since the fight of August 14th last the marriage contract is no longer in existence. On that night my office in Fresno was burned with all its contents, and among the valuable documents destroyed was the marriage contract. We are therefore unable to produce it."

Going to Boston.

On Monday next the Baptist excursion will start for Boston, where the Baptist anniversary celebration is to be held from May 15th to 20th. The excursion will be under the personal supervision of Rev. G. S. Abbott, D. D., accompanied by Rev. S. B. Morse, D.D., President California Baptist College; Rev. F. W. Dursey, San Francisco, and E. R. Stockwell, Stockton. A number of Oaklanders will go with the excursionists.

DID YOU SEE THEM?

The Five New Wagons of the People's Express Company.

The streets of Oakland are dotted here and there with large red wagons of the People's Express Company, running here and there with large loads. Recently they have turned out five newly painted wagons and a large truck. Their business is increasing to such an extent, that they are purchasing from one to two wagons a month. Travelers never forget this company, as they check baggage at your residence to all parts of the United States, besides they make a specialty of a moving pianos, furniture, etc. Remember the number, 122 Tenth street. Telephone No. 326.

Door in to George's Exchange, 477 Eighth street, for fresh beer on tap, choice wines, liquors and cigars, and weiss beer.

ON THE EAST BANK.

Improvements Along the North Arm of the Estuary.

Henry R. Nagle has purchased the property in East Oakland bordering on the estuary between Seventh and Eighth streets, and is improving it. Streets are being cut through, artificial stone walks laid, and the streets macadamized, sewered and piped with gas and water. The ground is all high above the street elevation, and when the improvements are completed, will be the most desirable residence property in East Oakland. On Thursday, May 30th, W. J. Dingee will dispose of the property by one of his successful auctions. A trip to the property should be made before the day of sale.

A HOME.

How to Secure a Residence in Alameda.

A. W. Pattiani & Co., the Leading Home Builders of Alameda County.

To those having but a small account at the bank and who earn a moderate salary, the idea of owning their own home seems almost an impossibility. Yet it is not so. For money is always desirous of being employed and the property interests of Alameda county present rare advantages for profitable employment of capital. A firm that is beyond all question entitled to the credit of being the "Home Builders of Alameda County," is that of A. W. Pattiani & Co., office 962 Broadway, Oakland. Mr. Pattiani has long been a resident of Alameda County, and has contributed his full share to its advancement and growth. The firm has constructed 375 residences in the county since they began operations in 1881, and the latest styles of architecture, which add so much to the adornment of this city have been the result of their extended research, study and Eastern travel. While three fourths of their work is done with cash customers they nevertheless will build a home to suit the tastes of the individual on easy terms. They furnish plans and specifications to meet the tastes and purses of all. They use only the best material in all their work, and exhibit much taste in the exterior adornment. They employ skilled help and do all of their own work, and do not under any circumstances sublet contracts. They have made extensive trips throughout the largest Eastern cities and have acquired the latest styles and ideas in the architecture and construction of homes. In conclusion we feel justified in stating that this firm have taken the lead in advancing the best interest of Alameda county. They do not pose as cheap builders, but give skilled workmanship and the best material enter into their work, and their figures are as close as is compatible with giving satisfaction in the end. We can with assurance recommend to those contemplating building a home no matter how great or small their income may be, to call and see or correspond with Messrs. A. W. Pattiani & Co., 962 Broadway, Oakland.—The Californian.
